With 12 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists vs. Chicago on Oct. 28, 2017, Russell Westbrook became the only player to post a triple-double against every opposing NBA team.

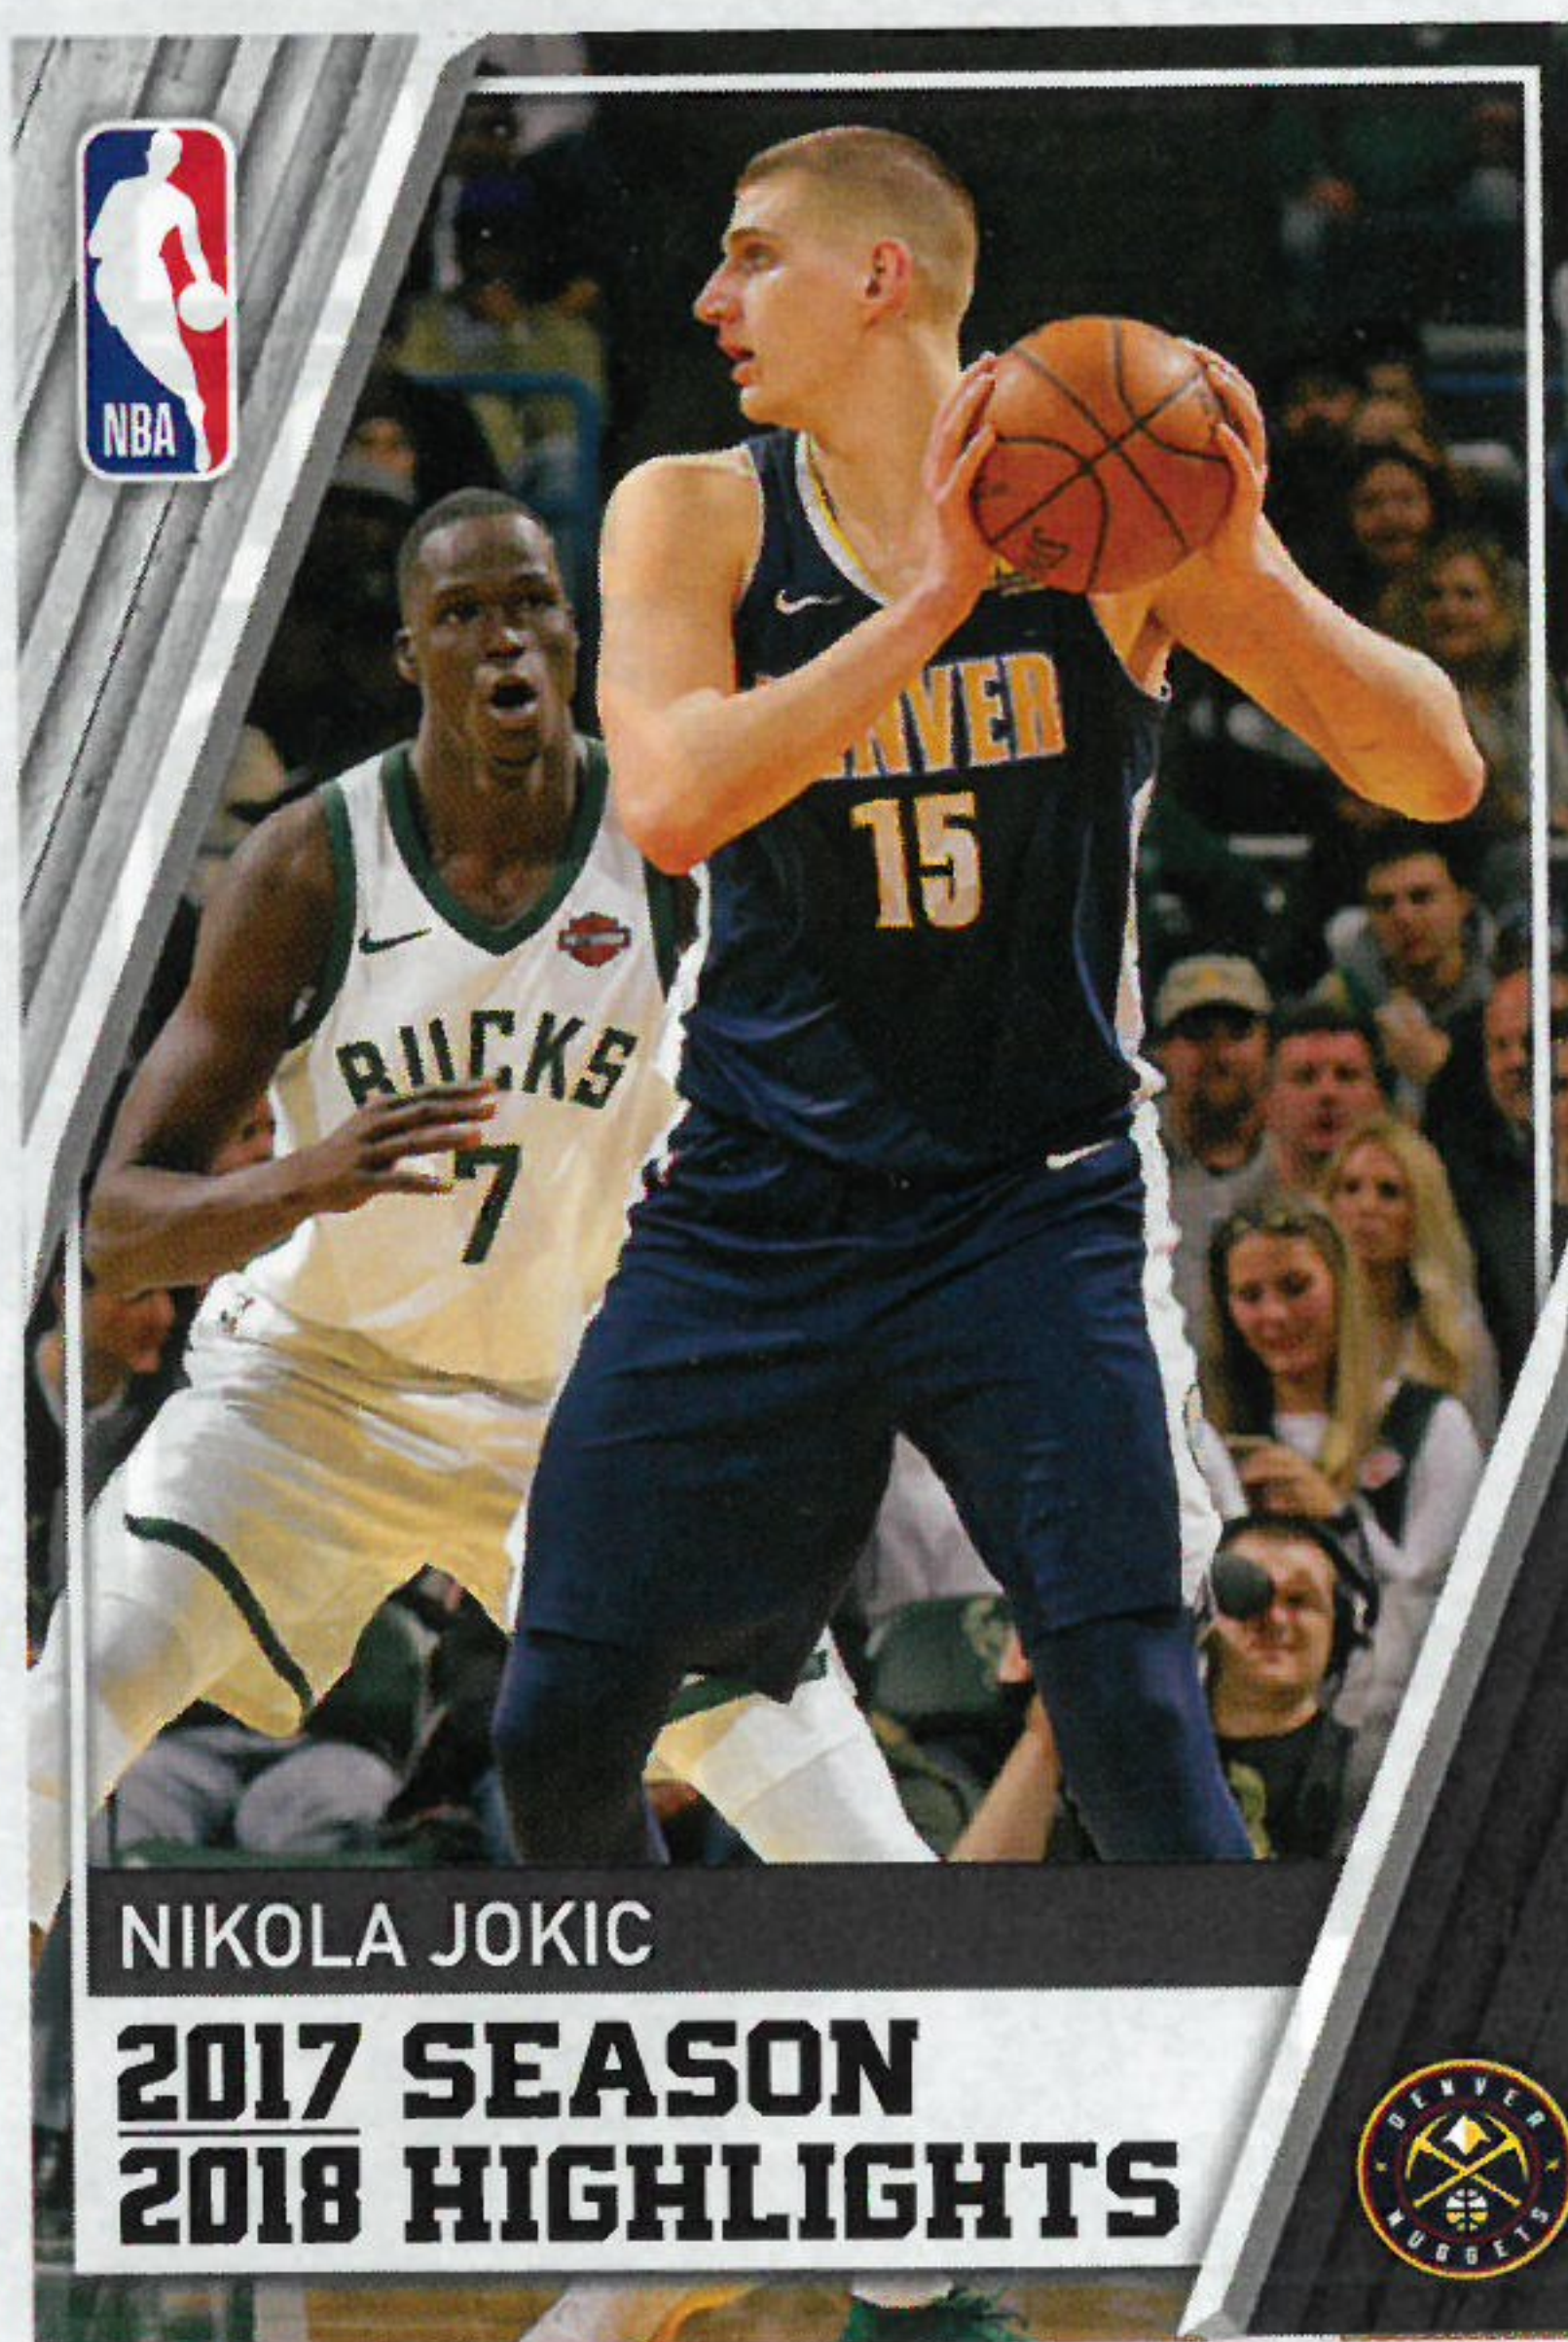

The only player to have two numbers retired by the same team, Kobe Bryant saw his No. 8 and No. 24 jerseys raised to the Los Angeles rafters on Dec. 18, 2017.

Bulls rookie Lauri Markkanen needed only 41 games to drain 100 shots from beyond the arc, which are the least amount of contests to reach the monumental plateau.

James Harden registered 60 points, 11 assists and 10 rebounds vs. Orlando on Jan. 30, 2018, which made him the only player to post a 60-point triple-double in NBA history.

It didn't take long for Denver center Nikola Jokic to tally a triple-double vs. the Bucks on Feb. 15, 2018, doing so in 14 minutes and 33 seconds – the fastest in NBA history.

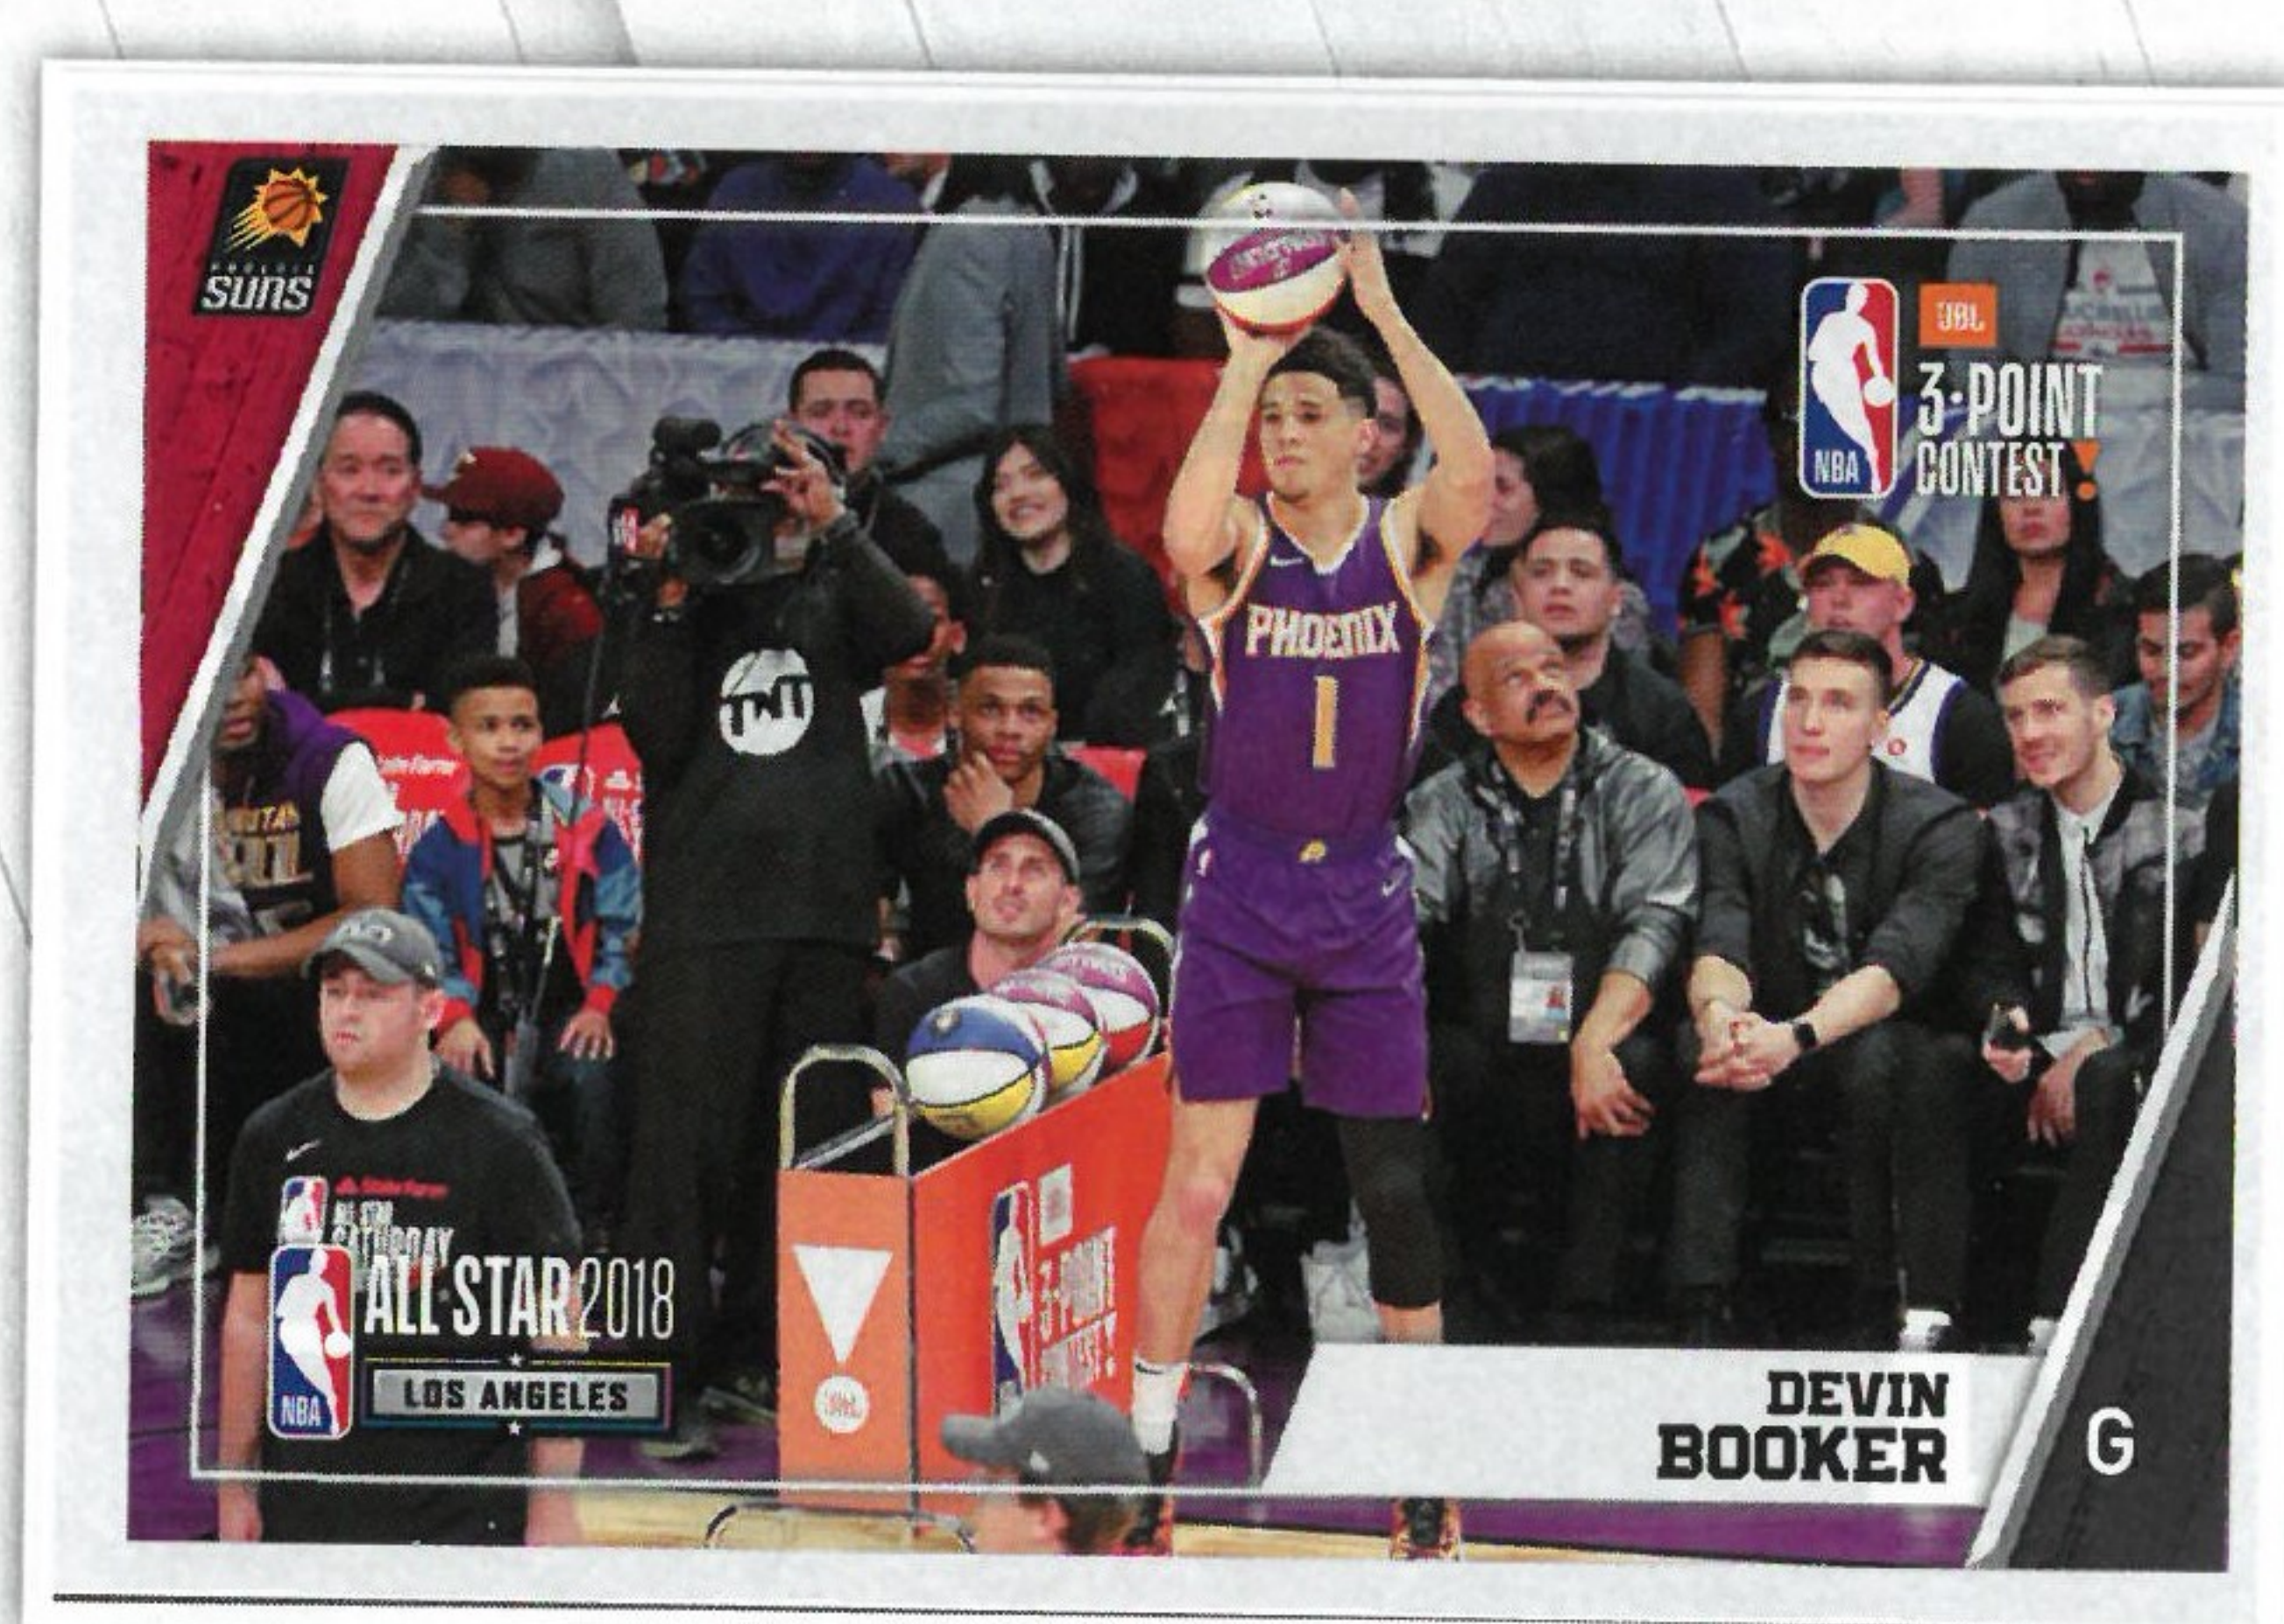

With a shot that's essentially defenseless, Dirk Nowitzki became the sixth NBA player to score 31,000 career points during a contest vs. Oklahoma City on Feb. 28, 2018.
